What a busy month we had! Four new babies joined our class. The infants enjoyed finger painting with scented paint while learning about our Five Senses. They also had a wonderful time exploring with sink and float bottles. In September, we will explore apples and learn about different occupations. The babies will be exploring apples when stamping and painting pictures with them. We cannot wait to see their reactions! They will also learn about different occupations through dress up, art and toys. We would like to welcome Caden, Brayden, Sawyer, Scarlett and Zachary to our class. We welcome any grandparents who would like to come and read to the babies the week of the 8th-11th, in celebration of Grandparent's Day! Please let us know if you would like to volunteer. Thank you

We have 12 wonderful children! Some are walking and some are soon to be walking, but non the less, they are all adjusting to their new environment and always exploring. At times, the room may look disorganized, but in reality, we refer to it as "organized chaos" and it may take everyone a little time to settle ☺ In September, we will be talking about families and grandparents, so please bring in a family photo. It will go on our family wall and there will be an activity where we talk about our loved ones. We will also write "love notes" with crayons and markers to our mommies and daddies. The toddlers will be attempting to match different lids to containers. At the table, children will be sitting in a child-sized chair and work very hard to pick up pom poms with a pincer grasp and place them into an egg carton. Happy birthday to Myles, Auggie and Marlow!

Toddler B

Ms. Karin, Ms. Lilia & Ms. Addie

August came and went so fast. During this month the toddlers got the opportunity to explore and experiment with food color, shape and texture when learning about their five senses. The children had a wonderful time exploring bubbles and popping them! We welcome our new friends Kolin, Georgia and Bailey who have made a great addition to our class. In September the toddlers will be learning about colors, shapes, counting, recognizing friends' and teachers' names, matching lids to various containers, following one and two step directions and imitating animal sounds! In September, we will celebrate Grandparent's Day and Jonny Appleseed. The Toddlers will be learning about fall/seasons and the farm/farm animals. Please check the front bulletin board for special events to mark on your calendar.

Although summer has been filled with lots of fun and growth, we are ready for leaves to fall! Our class has grown and new friends have joined our class. This past month we had fun exploring numbers, sound, engineering and magnets. The children showed an extra interest when learning about sound and loved experimenting with various musical instruments, megaphones and how their own bodies can make sound using their voices, hands and feet! We are entering fall and the holidays are going to start flooding in. We will be start by celebrating Grandparent's Day on September 11th at 3:30 with an Ice Cream Social. We look forward to having them!
