

Infants

Skill Focus

- Strings together sounds (ba-ba, da-da, etc.)
- Responds to voice games
- Looks at named picture
- Unstacks nesting blocks or rings
- Enjoys rhymes and songs
- Reaches and grasps toys
- Explores multi-sensory activities

Home Enrichment

Touch It, Hold It, Bang It

If your baby has one object, he'll bang it on the table. If he has two objects, he'll bang them together, hold them up to the light, squint at them, bang them separately on the table, hit the table with both at the same time, see if the object sounds different when hit using the left hand rather than the right hand, and on and on. Help him out by handing over objects that make interesting sounds: hollow containers, metal spoons, bells.

Pay attention to tactile sensations as well: Your baby will be fascinated by a greeting card laced with glitter or the slickness of Mom's enameled jewelry box.
