

REMIND.COM TEXT and EMAIL Communications

Remind.com is a secure web-based system that allows us to send communications through text messages directly to your cell phone. Simply provide us the cell phone numbers that you would like to receive these notifications below. You can also provide any email addresses as well. We will input them into our system. Suggested numbers to include would be mom, dad, grandparents, or any family members that would need to know school notifications. The types of communications you may receive are reminders of upcoming events, important notices, and students returning from field trips.

Notice: We will also use this method of communication for emergency situations that occur on our campus, such as lock downs. We use REMIND to keep you informed of any type of emergency.

(To stop messages, simply reply to a message you have received with the phrase: @STOPALL)
